OUTSOURCE TO DICTATENOW AND AVOID DELAYS DUE TO INCLEMENT WEATHER

The recent snowy weather caused unprecedented delays throughout the UK in all aspects of life but particularly in travel which impacted on fee earners and secretaries being able to reach their offices for work. Users of DictateNow were able to work from the comfort of their own home and dictate via their home computer, laptop or mobile then outsource their work to a DictateNow typist knowing that their work would immediately be transcribed with no delay. For those fee earners who succeeded in reaching their office only to find their own secretary had not managed to make it to her desk, at the click of a button, the fee earner sent their work to DictateNow for an immediate, quick and accurate service. Snow did not impact on the DictateNow service!
